Christmas A

William Carey University

The Christmas season was kicked off at William Carey with the annual Vespers ceremony and Christmas dinner. Students, faculty and staff enjoyed a meal together in the festively decorated cafeteria and later gathered to decorate the auditorium and received a brief history lesson on many of the traditional Christmas decorations. Different sport teams and organizations participated by placing the poinsettias, hanging wreaths, garland, and ornaments, and placing presents under the tree. Music included congregational singing of traditional Christmas carols and other groups including Carpenters Wood and the Carillon performed. The evening ended with the lighting of individual candles given out at the beginning of the program and the procession into the prayer garden where a group photo was taken. The decorations remained displayed in the auditorium through the rest of the holiday season.

The Scrapbook

Michelle and I hope that you will enjoy the 2011 yearbook. The William Carey University Family Scrapbook. This is our first yearbook working together and the experience has in many ways mirrored the adventures of our real family lives. We were weary and unsure of each other in the beginning. but as time went on, we began to trust and enjoy each other's company. The yearbook became a common purpose to work on and the weight of its responsibility became a bond of kinship that I believe is reflected in the Scrapbook itself. We strived to present an annual that included everyone who wanted to be included and look forward to even better participation in the future. Much like the scrapbooks our parents present us with or the ones that we make ourselves, we wanted each of you to be able to reflect on pieces of your university experience at William Carey University and smile, laugh and remember. Just like you would with any treasured scrapbook, we hope the 2011 William Carey University Family Scrapbook brings back the happiest of memories.

Dear Readers,

As the years pass by I hope that you will look back on this yearbook and fondly remember your time here at William Carey University. As we prepare for the 2011-2012 academic year, I remember 2010-2011 as a year of great accomplishment and service. We began the school year spurred on by the theme, "Not to be served, but to serve" from Matthew 20:28. Our students, faculty and staff took up the banner and touched lives across the globe, both in mission and educational pursuits. A small list of our accomplishments includes:

* We dedicated the new WCU College of Osteopathic Medicine and welcomed 107 medical students.

v The Speech and Debate Team ended the season ranked second in the national according to Pi Kappa Delta.

* Seven Carey graduates were accepted to medical school.

* We welcomed our first student from Greece. We had more than 100 international stdents from 33 countries.

* We dedicated the new Joe and Virginia Tatum Theatre in the fall. A theatre student represented Carey at the national Kennedy Center American College Theatre Festival in Washington, D.C.

* Students participated in mission trips to Kenya and Peru and here at home contributed hundreds of hours of volunteer service raising money for Japanese relief and Mississippi Tornado victims.

* The Crusader Softball Team ended their regular season ranked second in the nation according to the NAIA.

* We premiered Cross Country, increasing our competitive sports to twelve, the most in Carey history. We entered a much stronger and larger athletic conference and all twelve of our sports advanced to conference post season play. Our men's golf coach won the SSAC championship and Coach D. 1. Pulley was named Men's Golf Coach of the Year.

God has fruly blessed the hard work and dedication of our students, faculty and staff. We are grateful for this past year and look toward the next with the steadfast faith and hope of God's promises. Your support for your alma mater is essential for William Carey University to continue to "expect great things from God and attempt great things for God."

In His name,

Dr. Tommy King

This year, William Carey's College Of Osteopathic Medicine welcomed its first class of 108 students. In August 2010, almost a year and a half after its official establishment, the school held its inaugural orientation and white coat ceremony. The college received over 1,100 applications. Of those accepted 48 were from Mississippi.

The White Coat Ceremony is an auspicious experience as students enter osteopathic medical school. In the presence of family, guests, and faculty members, students are welcomed into the medical profession by leaders of the College of Osteopathic Medicine and the Mississippi Osteopathic Medical Association. Each student will be congratulated and ceremonially "cloaked" with their white coat. Then, dressed in white, they stand to take the osteopathic oath of commitment, traditionally sworn at graduation.

William Carey's theme for the year is "Not to be served...but to serve." (Matthew 20:28). At Fall Convocation, Dr. King demonstrates this theme by washing the feet of a student.

Fall Convocation

The year at William Carey began with the traditional Convocation in place of the first chapel service of the trimester. Professors donned their caps and gowns and entered behind their respective college's flags. In addition to introducing this year's campus theme, "Not to be served, but to serve," in his welcoming speech, Dr. Tommy King went a step further to express his enthusiasm over the charge by washing freshman music major, Matt Diehl's feet. Dr King's hope was that his example of service would provoke the students, faculty, and staff to search out opportunities to express a sense of servitude throughout the year. Dr. King also had the different clubs, organizations, societies, and teams stand and be recognized during the service, including the first inaugural students of the College of Osteopathic Medicine.
